

Privacy Policy

These terms were adopted and came into effect on April 1, 2021. The date of the last changes is April 1, 2021.

Introduction

We make every effort to protect the confidentiality and security of your personal data that we process or manage. This Privacy Policy describes our procedures for ensuring confidentiality regarding our interaction with you on the Internet, by phone, or during your visit to our office with video surveillance.

Personal Data in the context of this Privacy Policy refers to information or a set of information about a natural person who is identified or can be specifically identified.

By using our website, located at www.daypatron.com.ua and receiving services from us, you agree and grant us permission to collect, record, accumulate, store, adapt, modify, update, use, and distribute your personal data, including anonymizing and deleting personal data, in accordance with the terms set out in this Privacy Policy. By this, you confirm that you have sufficient legal capacity and competence under the laws of your country to consent to this privacy policy and to consent to the processing of your personal data on the terms outlined here. In the event that you do not have sufficient legal capacity, you confirm that this consent is given by your parents or legal representatives, who have full legal capacity and are authorized under the laws of your jurisdiction to give such consent. By this, you also consent to the processing of your personal data and confirm that you are informed about the procedure and purpose, as well as other conditions of their processing in accordance with Articles 6, 8, 10, and 11 of the Ukrainian Law "On Personal Data Protection."

Please carefully read this Privacy Policy and visit this page from time to time to stay informed about any changes that may be made. The Privacy Policy may be amended at any time by publishing the supplemental terms on this website. All supplemental terms automatically take effect from the date specified in the Privacy Policy, unless otherwise stated.

Scope of the Privacy Policy

This Privacy Policy applies to this website and extends to personal data of individuals (clients, suppliers, and business partners of our company, etc.). Our website may contain links to third-party websites for your convenience and for the purpose of providing information. By following these links, you leave our website. We do not control third-party websites or their data privacy procedures, which may differ from our procedures. This Privacy Policy does not apply to any personal data you provide to unrelated third parties. We do not track or control the information collected on these websites or data privacy procedures on any third-party websites, and we are not responsible for the procedures or content of such websites.

Types of Information We Collect and Use

Our website uses various interfaces (if provided by the site's functionality) that allow us to request information about our services, including electronic request forms, phone requests, and the use of social media (messaging). Contact information may be requested each time. This information is used to enable us to respond to your requests.

If you visit our office with installed video surveillance systems, your movements may be recorded.

We commit to collect, use, transmit, or otherwise process personal data only for the purposes for which it was collected. We may also use data for other related purposes as specified below.

What We Do with the Collected Information

In order for you to receive a service, we may request some information from you, which will be used to establish contact with you. You will need to provide contact information (such as name, email address, phone number). The contact information obtained from you is used solely for the purpose of contacting you to provide a service.

The law may require the disclosure of information to third parties. For example, we may be required to disclose information with a court order, subpoena, or warrant. In addition, in accordance with the law, we may voluntarily provide information to assist law enforcement or in situations where disclosure is necessary to protect our systems and business or the rights of other individuals. Personal data may be used for archiving, internal audits, or investigations, business controls, or insurance purposes.

Rights of Data Subjects

Data subjects, as understood in this Privacy Policy, are natural persons whose personal data is processed in accordance with the law.

The personal non-property rights to personal data that each natural person has are inalienable and inviolable.

Please note that this translation may not capture all nuances of the original text, and it is recommended to consult with a legal expert or the original text when needed for legal or official purposes.

The subject of personal data has the right:

to know about the sources of collection, the location of their personal data, the purpose of their processing, the location or place of residence (residence) of the owner or manager of personal data or to give an appropriate mandate to receive this information to persons authorized by him, except for cases established by law;

to receive information about the terms of providing access to personal data, in particular, information about third parties to whom his personal data is transferred;

to access your personal data;

to receive the content of such personal data;

to receive, no later than 30 (thirty) calendar days from the date of receipt of the request, except for the cases provided by law, an answer on whether his personal data is being processed, and also to present a reasoned demand to the owner of personal data with an objection to the processing of his personal data;

make a reasoned demand for the change or destruction of your personal data by any owner and manager of personal data, if these data are processed illegally or are false; to protect your personal data from illegal processing and accidental loss, destruction, damage in connection with intentional concealment, failure to provide or untimely provision of them, as well as protection from providing information that is false or disgraces the honor, dignity and business reputation of a natural person ;

file complaints about the processing of your personal data with the Commissioner or the court;

apply legal remedies in case of violation of the legislation on the protection of personal data;

enter a reservation regarding the limitation of the right to process one's personal data when giving consent;

withdraw consent to the processing of personal data;

know the mechanism of automatic processing of personal data;

to protect against an automated decision that has legal consequences for him.

Electronic communication

After you send us a request, we may contact you by e-mail, phone or using social networks (messaging) and will make every effort to comply with your preferences. For more information about the purposes and scope of data collection and processing in connection with the features of communication through social networks (messaging), please visit the privacy policy of the entities that provide these features.

In accordance with your marketing preferences, we may also send you information about our new products, services, special offers and general information.

When necessary, we will send you non-marketing communications related to our services.

Keeping information safe

We do not guarantee the security of our servers or that the information you transmit to the website cannot be intercepted in transit over the Internet or by other means. We follow general industry standards to protect the personal data provided to us during transmission and after receipt.
